Passenger Lists: “We are a nation of immigrants”

AN ESTIMATED 85 PERCENT OF AMERICANS HAVE AT LEAST ONE ANCESTOR THAT IS INCLUDED IN ANCESTRY LIBRARY EDITION'S PASSENGER LIST COLLECTION, WHICH COVERS THE HEIGHT OF AMERICAN IMMIGRATION. The Passenger List Collection, which took more than three years to digitize and transcribe, commemorates the hopes, sacrifices, and legacy of more than 100 million passengers and over 100 American ports of arrival. ■ Names found in the Passenger List Collection include historical figures such as Bob Hope, Charlie Chaplin, Sigmund Freud, Cary Grant, the Von Trapp Family, and Annie Moore, Ellis Island's first immigrant. The collection also records the arrival of immigrant ancestors of Angelina Jolie, Madonna, and Donald Trump.

Some highlights from Ancestry Library Edition:

- Albert Einstein makes an appearance in a 1921 passenger list where his hair is subtly described as “grayish.”
- Martha Stewart wasn't the first in her family to capitalize on home décor skills. An S.S. Iceland manifest lists her immigrant grandfather, Frank Kostyra, with the profession of “basket maker.”
- Magician Harry Houdini and former U.S. President Theodore Roosevelt sailed on the same ship from Southampton, England, to New York in 1914 and are both listed on the same passenger list page.
